

Friday Feeling – a message from the Headmaster

Welcome back! I hope you have all had a restful and peaceful half term – recharged and ready to go. In what seems like more than a week since we returned to school, there has been a host of exciting and poignant activities that we have been engaged with. Y2 were very excited and motivated to write following their visit to Münster Zoo – they are becoming somewhat expert in African animal identification as part of their topic. Identification of a different kind was on the menu for Y4 this week as they had their science session in King’s School looking at classification.

In a more sombre and moving moment, pupils from Haig and King’s have been coming together at 1100 each day to move the Tommy up the strip towards the memorial, ready for the Remembrance Service on Sunday; an important act marking the 100 years passing since the end of WWI. Today we had our own special remembrance assembly where Clara Morris played the trumpet tremendously for us – thank you (and to Jake Burns for supporting brilliantly). We also heard three special poems from Y5 inspired by the tragedies of the Great War and their visit to Ypres.

As part of the drawdown process and aligning to the children’s Haig 50, staff completed their latest challenge this week. Ready, Steady, Cook was the order of the day – and the creativity and skills of the staff was impressive. From a set of basic ingredients, Michelin star quality dishes were revealed. Congratulations to the winning team Mrs Hall, Mrs Makavu, Mrs Marston and Mrs Jacobs.

Have a wonderful weekend,

Ben Turner
